Success factors, with your home or business in Troy:

- People and businesses are moving to Troy because of its central location, and because of its outstanding school district, delivering a great product at a modest cost.
- And they like the convenience of the 3 interstates and 2 intersections. Every single one of our present tenants and all of our prospects cite this as a critical factor.
- The Master Storm Water Detention basin has a wonderful double purpose....that of a private pedestrian park. And it's done...no part of the project will have to create its own.
- In all instances, the developers intend beauty and comfort. As the whole matures, careful landscaping will be added in beautification. (See "The Developers" for a resume of previous experience.)
- Local support by the city and the local chamber of commerce is excellent....small enough to involve you, large enough to serve well. The leadership is simply outstanding.
